MOTHERS

and those soon to become mothers, should know that Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the best medicine for the system for purification. Thereby "labor" and the period of confinement are greatly shortened. It also promotes the secretion of an abundance of nourishment for the child.

Mrs. DORA A. GUTHRIE, of Oakley, Oregon, writes: "When I began taking your 'Favorite Prescription,' I was not able to stand on my feet without suffering almost death. Now I do all my housework, washing, cooking, sewing and everything for my family of eight. I am stronger now than I have been in six years. Your 'Favorite Prescription' is the best to take before confinement, or at least it proved so with me. I never suffered as little with any of my children as I did with my last, and she is the healthiest we've got. Have inquired several to try 'Favorite Prescription,' and it has proved good for them."

His Pinching is Stopped.

Salvatore Canabo will not pinch any more arms for the next month. He was committed to Blackwell's Island for one month by Police Justice Burke yesterday morning in the Harlem, N.Y., police court.

Canabo may congratulate himself on the lightness of his punishment. Had he amused himself by pinching the arms of Parisian women he would have been held for examination by expert alienists, and the chances are that he would have been committed to some lunatic asylum for the rest of his life.

Canabo has terrorized Harlem women for the last three weeks. He was in the habit of lurking in doorways along 125th street after dark, and stealthily following women who were alone. These he would overtake at a crossing or some other place where no one was near. Then he would suddenly dart up behind his victim and throw one arm around her waist, while with his free hand he squeezed and pinched her arm.

The man was always able to make his escape, because the women he pinched were too surprised and frightened to give any alarm. Police Captain Meakin instructed his men to look for him, but their efforts were unsuccessful until Sunday evening. Then, as told in the Herald, Canabo pinched the arm of a young woman who was walking through west 125th street with Thomas J. Joyce, of No. 304 west 120th street.

The young woman screamed as Canabo ran away. Joyce ran after him, and soon raised a crowd. When the pursuers surrounded him Canabo drew a knife, with a six inch blade. Police Captain Meakin instructed his men to look for him, but their efforts were unsuccessful until Sunday evening. Then, as told in the Herald, Canabo pinched the arm of a young woman who was walking through west 125th street with Thomas J. Joyce, of No. 304 west 120th street.

Canabo is short and swarthy, with broad shoulders and a powerful back. His eyes are small and dull. He is only twenty-five years old. Very little time was taken in considering his case in the Harlem Police Court Wednesday morning.

When Justice Burke committed him to Blackwell's Island for a month he marched back to the prison without a word. His home is at No. 345 east 112th street, in what is known as "Little Italy." Nothing could be learned of his history.

I called the attention of Dr. Allan McLane Hamilton to Canabo's case Wednesday afternoon and asked for his opinion as to the man's condition and what should be done with him.

"I cannot say much about it without seeing the man," replied Dr. Hamilton, "but certainly the facts related in the Herald give one the impression that the man is insane. The appearances indicate a form of paranoia. The knife and the outfit of stones indicate that the fellow is a very dangerous lunatic, probably with homicidal tendencies. He should be closely watched."

"The man's peculiar fondness for pinching women's arms may or may not be an indication of insanity. It is a sign of perversion. Of the same type are the men who gash women or slash them with knives, the fellows who cut their dresses, the huggers and hair cutters and those who throw ink on dresses. All of these suffer from a perversion kindred to that which dominates 'Jack the Ripper.'"

"It is by no means certain that Canabo is insane. There can be no doubt about his perversion and that he allows himself to be governed by certain concepts. Very possibly he experienced no gratification from the act except the satisfaction of having carried out his ridiculous plan. The history of such cases shows that these silly acts are committed often by insane than by sane persons. Men have been known to act in this way who were otherwise noted for their strong intellects."

"Should not such persons as Canabo be confined in lunatic asylums?" I asked.

"As a rule, yes," replied Dr. Hamilton. "All of them should be examined by mental alienists. I have little doubt that if the man you speak of were examined by the city physicians they would commit him to an insane asylum. Men of his class should be kept there until cured. The best place for fellows of that class is at Dr. McDonald's man and asylum at Islip, Long Island. There they have plenty of regular work which, with the discipline, is the best thing in the world for them."

"To imprison such fellows as the pincher has no deterrent effect upon them. You might as well try to cure a lunatic by fining him. Under the statutes, I believe, Canabo could be sent to State prison for ten years if the case against him were prosecuted to the utmost. But what good would that do? None, except that the pervert would be restrained from pinching any more women's arms as long as he was locked up."

"Is it true that the pinchers and huggers and such fellows are treated as lunatics in France?" I asked.

"Most of them are sent to insane asylums," answered Dr. Hamilton. "All of them are examined by alienists whenever arrested. Those found to be insane are committed to asylums for life—or, at least, until cured. This form of perversion is more common in France than here. It occurs more frequently among the dark skinned, emotional races than among those that are more phlegmatic."—N. Y. Herald.
